Dear Peter:

Time I think for a good resume and roundup of David Williamson's work, achievement, significance and what have you. I happen to think that David, while perhaps not in the sub species aeternitatis sense the Patrick White of Oz playwrights, has had a raw deal in many ways from the bien pensants. We would be delighted if we could interest you in a survey piece on David -- and it would give me much pleasure to publish anything by you.

With best wishes,

Stephen

Dear Stephen, thanks very much for your letter and kind words of support. I'm flattered that you have had ideas about the critical discussion piece. Brian Kiernan of Sydney University is getting together a biography of sarks & might be interested in publishing something on me & Peter Fitzpatrick of Mondsh has written several insightful pieces on my work, as has John McCallum at N.S.W. All the best to you & Nita and to Overland which keeps informing & stimulating even in such far off climes as Sydney

Regards

David Williamson
